GOSSIP OF THE GREEN-ROOM

Mrs Kendal Assists at an Entertainment for College Girls.

Fanny Davenport to Get Sardou's New Play.

Mrs. Kendal, prim and matronly, at least a hundred leagues away from "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," opened a very interesting programme at the Empire Theatre yesterday. She wore a respectable black silk gown, a respectable black plumed bonnet, a respectable ble air of benign sympathy with the ganized by Miss Emma Frohman, a arge-eyed young woman who wears here have a sum of the first of the associate aluminate of the Normal College, to found a woman's settlement as a centre for its indergarten and philanthropic work."

She also completely the complete the lands of the completely designed to the complete the lands of the complete the lands of the complete the lands of the la son. Yet the speculation is a safe one. A Sardou play rarely fails. This particular play will be produced almost simultaneously by Bernhardt in France and Davenport in America. Neither of the actresses in worrying herself very much

"We had trouble enough getting the court dresses worn in 'Aristocracy,'" said Charles Frohman yesterday, 'but in 'Utopia' all the chorus girls wear them. They are almost thrown at you." The presentation gowns worn in the Gilbert and Sullivan opera will set many foolish feminine hearts fluttering. In 'Aristocracy' they were considered a great feature, and in "The Guardsman, 'presented last April at the Lyceum, Miss Maude Harrison wore one of them with much effect.

The members of D'Oyly Carte's company look upon Gilbert's text as a veritable classic. Those who had librettos Monday night were able to see that scarcely a word was changed—although there were a few omissions—and the merest exclamation was uttered. Gilbert never permits any gag or any suspicion of a gag. He looks upon himself as an up-to-date edition of Shakespeare, whose every word is precious.

Herman Vezin, the well-known English actor, has made a brilliant suggestion to the effect that encores and recalls be forbidden by the County Council. He looks upon the encore as a most pernicious custom, but if he wants to see its full abuse he should come to New York. Here the encores on a first night have become one of the most intolerable nuisances. They have lost their original significance, and are simply prompted by a belief that the public will be guiled into believing that they are spontaneous outbursts. The spontaneous encore is a rarity nowadays.

The Tacoma gentleman, Col. W. J. Fife, is still undaunted. He is positively coming to New York to organize a company and startle the natives in the legitimate. He belongs to "the Fifes, of Tacoma, the elder of whom operated a store in Sheldon" years ago. They are said to be "atrong in popularity, prestige and purse." It is undoubtedly the purse strength that will be most needed in the stage venture.

An entertainment will be given to-morrow afternoon at the Academy of Music by the Theatrical Mechanical Be-nevolent Association, which has a mem-bership of 379. Much good work has been done by this Association during the past year.

A well-known manager, who produced a play in this city the other day, was so confident of its success that he said to a friend: "Tittell you want Till do, Before the first performance, I'll write a criticism of the play, and seal it up. Then, when the papers come out Tuesday morning, I'll bet you that they will speak more glowhighly of the performance than I do, although I am convinced of its success." The criticism was written and scaled. The play was produced. In the Tuesday papers it was roasted to cinders, and knocked into fits. Slowly and sadly the manager opened his own criticism and tearfully he showed it to his friend. "The actors interpolated speeches," said he, "and things went wrong. Otherwise it would have been as I said." M'yes.

Mrs. D. P. Bowers has written an interesting article on Edwin Booth in The Californian Illustrated Magazine. She gives her own experience as a member of his company, and although she tells little that is new she is always entertaining. 'I never met any one in my profession," writes Mrs. Bowers, "so generous to his brother and sister artists in the matter of dramatic points as he. Mr. Booth was ever eager to see those with whom he was thrown have every opportunity to succeed, and a round of applause or a call before the curtain for another always seemed to be a source of genuine pleasure to him. He was entirely unselfish."

The picture of "Moses in the Bull-rushes," shown in the Kilanyi tableaux at the Garden Theatre, is not considered realistic enough by the "1492" management. They want a real baby inatead of a painted one. "And why not?" declared one of Mr. Palmer's agents, "Why not? A real baby wouldn't keep quiet, you think. We have no objection to having it cry. The audience would like it. It would be an additional touch of realism. The painted baby is far too tame."

Miss Lillian Russell returned to the Casino last night with a very handsome revival of "Girofle-Girofla," in which she was recently seen at the Garden Theatre. Miss Russell was very warmly welcomed by a crowded house, and she was seen and heard at her best. Sig. Perugini was Marasquin, and Digby Bell was Don Bolero d'Alcarazas.

"Parson" Davies has issued a long reply to the "official statement" issued from Cincinnati by James J. Corbett. Davies denies that Jackson, as claimed by Corbett, should feel flattered by the notice taken of him by Corbett, and declares that all the colored man wishes is to have the fight come off in this country if possible, but in any place where a fair show will be given him. Davies asks Corbett to name a time when he can meet Jackson in a glove contest.

By some deep, dark, mysterious procedure Pitcher Amos Rusie has been cafoled into signing a New York contract, and the world moves again. How this wonderful feat was accomplished the Club people decline to say. Of course, they did not give in, for did they not say they would never recede. Now let them bring their irresistible persuasiveness to bear on Catcher Farrell.

Prices this Summer. The ice dealers have formed a trust. and propose to make New Yorkers pay 10 cents more a hundred for their ice during the coming Summer than they did last year. This is the outcome of a meeting of the retail ice dealers held last evening at the Grand Opera-House Hall The dealers say the advance must be

The dealers say the advance must be made on account of the scarcity of ice, the amount required to supply New York, Jersey City and Brooklyn being 2500,000 tons, while there are only 2400.000 tons in sight in this vicinity, and the deficiency must be made up by importations from Maine.

The schedule of prices adopted for the coming season is 20 cents per hundred pounds to large consumers, such as butchers, brewers, saloons, restaurants and hotels, and 40 cents per hundred to and hotels, and to cents per hundred to families and offices.
